Access decision

I am authorised by the principal officer, for the purposes of section 9(3) of the GIPA Act, to decide your access application.

I have decided:

- Under section 58(1)(a) of the GIPA Act, to provide access to some of the information sought in your access application.
- Under section 58(1)(b) of the GIPA Act that the information is not held by the Department.
- Under section 75 of the GIPA Act, to create a new record in response to some parts of your access application and in accordance with section 58(1)(a) of the GIPA Act, provide access to that information.

These decisions are reviewable under sections 80(d-e) of the GIPA Act.

The public interest test

The applicant has a legally enforceable right to access the information requested, unless there is an overriding public interest against disclosing the information (section 9(1) of the GIPA Act). The public interest balancing test for determining whether there is an overriding public interest against disclosure is set out in section 13 of the GIPA Act.

The general public interest consideration in favour of access to government information set out in section 12 of the GIPA Act means that this balance is always weighted in favour of disclosure. Section 5 of the GIPA Act establishes a presumption in favour of disclosure of government information.

Before deciding whether to release or withhold information, the Department must apply the public interest test and decide whether or not an overriding public interest against disclosure exists for the information.

I have made my decision in accordance with section 13 of the GIPA Act by:

- a. identifying relevant public interest considerations in favour of disclosure
- b. identifying relevant public interest considerations against disclosure
- c. attributing weight to each consideration for and against disclosure
- d. determining whether the balance of the public interest lies in favour of or against disclosure of the government information.

I have applied the public interest test in accordance with the principles set out in section 15 of the GIPA Act which are:

- a. in a way that promotes the objects of the GIPA Act
- b. with regard to any relevant guidelines issued by the Information Commissioner
- c. without taking into account the fact that disclosure of information may cause embarrassment to, or a loss of confidence in, the Government (as that fact is irrelevant)
- d. without taking into account the fact that disclosure of information might be misinterpreted or misunderstood by any person (as that fact is irrelevant)
- e. with regard to the fact that disclosure cannot be made subject to any conditions on the use or disclosure of information.

Public interest considerations in favour of disclosure

Section 12(1) of the GIPA Act sets out a general public interest in favour of disclosing government information, which must always be weighed in the application of the public interest test. The Department may take into account any other considerations in favour of disclosure which may be relevant (s12(2) GIPA Act).

In my view the following public interest considerations in favour of disclosure apply when considering the documents in issue:

- a. The statutory presumption in favour of the disclosure of government information.
- b. The general right of the public to have access to government information held by agencies.
- c. Disclosure of the information could reasonably be expected to promote open discussion of public affairs, enhance Government accountability or contribute to positive and informed debate on issues of public importance.
- d. Disclosure of the information could reasonably be expected to inform the public about the operations of agencies and, in particular, their policies and practices for dealing with members of the public.
- e. Disclosure of the information could reasonably be expected to reveal the reason for a government decision and any background or contextual information that informed the decision.

Searches for information

In processing your application, I have taken into account the obligations referred to in section 53 of the GIPA Act, which states:

53 Searches for information held by agency

- (1) The obligation of an agency to provide access to government information in response to an access application is limited to information held by the agency when the application is received.*
- (2) An agency must undertake such reasonable searches as may be necessary to find any of the government information applied for that was held by the agency when the application was received. The agency's searches must be conducted using the most efficient means reasonably available to the agency.*
- (3) The obligation of an agency to undertake reasonable searches extends to searches using any resources reasonably available to the agency including resources that facilitate the retrieval of information stored electronically.*
- (4) An agency is not required to search for information in records held by the agency in an electronic backup system unless a record containing the information has been lost to the agency as a result of having been destroyed, transferred, or otherwise dealt with, in contravention of the State Records Act 1998 or contrary to the agency's established record management procedures.*
- (5) An agency is not required to undertake any search for information that would require an unreasonable and substantial diversion of the agency's resources.*

In accordance with the obligations outlined above, I liaised extensively with the Housing Statewide Services Relocation Team within the Department, which is responsible for managing the relocation of public housing tenants from large-scale redevelopment and sales projects of NSW Land and Housing Corporation-owned properties.

The Housing Statewide Services Relocation Team also advise that the Claymore renewal project forms part of the broader renewal project of public housing estates in the Campbelltown Local Government Area; therefore information relating to Claymore has been incorporated into the responses for the Airds-Bradbury renewal project.

I will now respond to each point of your request in turn:

Airds-Bradbury-Claymore:

For each tenant relocated from Airds-Bradbury-Claymore

- Date of relocation

The Move date in Attachment A states the date that each tenant was relocated from Airds-Bradbury-Claymore.

- Household size (number of occupants)

The Household count in Attachment A states the household size on the Move date.

- Whether tenants were moved into a head leased property or LAHC/CHO-owned property

I have taken into consideration section 75 of the GIPA Act, which provides that although there is no obligation to provide access to government information by way of creating a new record or document, an agency is not prevented from doing so.

Therefore, I have used my discretion on this occasion to create a new record pursuant to section 75 of the GIPA Act to respond to this specific aspect of your access application. This information has been provided to you at the end of this notice and is titled 'Attachment B'.

For each tenant relocated away from Airds-Bradbury-Claymore (either temporarily or permanently)

- Date of return to Airds-Bradbury-Claymore (if applicable)

The Move date in Attachment C states the date that the tenant returned and moved into a newly built property in Airds-Bradbury-Claymore.

For each new public or community housing dwelling in Airds-Bradbury

- Date occupied or allocated (completed dwellings)

The Move date in Attachment D states the date that the tenant moved into a newly built property in Airds-Bradbury-Claymore.

- Date of anticipated completion (remaining dwellings)

The Housing Statewide Services Relocation Team confirm that the Department does not hold information relating to the anticipated date of completion as the NSW Land and Housing Corporation are responsible for managing the renewal project at Airds/Bradbury/Claymore.

Ivanhoe:

For each tenant relocated from Ivanhoe

- Date of relocation

The Void Date (Macquarie Park property) in Attachment E states the date that tenants were relocated from Ivanhoe.

- Household size (number of occupants)

The Number of Household Members in Attachment E states the household size on the date outlined at Void Date (Macquarie Park property).

- Whether tenants were moved into a head leased property or LAHC/CHO-owned property

I have taken into consideration section 75 of the GIPA Act, which provides that although there is no obligation to provide access to government information by way of creating a new record or document, an agency is not prevented from doing so.

Therefore, I have used my discretion on this occasion to create a new record pursuant to section 75 of the GIPA Act to respond to this specific aspect of your access application. This information has been provided to you at the end of this notice and is titled 'Attachment B'.

For each building or stage of the Ivanhoe renewal project

- Total number of dwellings by size (number of bedrooms)

- Number or proportion of public or community housing dwellings

- Date of anticipated completion

The Housing Statewide Services Relocation Team confirm that the Department does not hold information relating to the above as the NSW Land and Housing Corporation are responsible for managing the renewal project at Ivanhoe.
